

Refused to Participate Today in the Pompous Ceremonies

Of the Inauguration of Nash.

The Event Proceeded in a Blaze of Glory But There was More Talk About Bushnell's Refusal Than the Inauguration.

Columbus, Jan. 13.—There is more talk here today over the refusal of ex-Governor Bushnell to take part in the inaugural than there is of the inaugural itself. Gov. Nash says Bushnell's interpretation of his letter was erroneous and that he intended to give the ex-governor and Mrs. Bushnell a prominent place in line.

BRILLIANT

Exercises of the Inaugural Went Through Without a Break.

Columbus, O., Jan. 13.—The inauguration of Hon. George A. Nash as governor of Ohio for a second term was a brilliant event. Thousands of persons were attracted to the city and the program of exercises was carried out without a hitch. The arrangements were under the direction of committees appointed by the Columbus Board of Trade, and the governor, a long resident of Columbus, was tendered a complimentary inaugural.

GOVERNOR NASH.

The overshadowing feature of the day was the inaugural parade. Thousands of persons participated, and the line of march was thronged with enthusiastic spectators. In the parade were several companies of soldiers from the United States barracks in this city, the state militia, Grand Army veterans and heroes of the Spanish-American war, uniformed political clubs, civic societies, appropriate floats, and numerous brass bands. The exercises in the rotunda of the Capitol were solemn and impressive, and advantage was taken of the occasion to informally dedicate the new state building, which adjoins the Capitol on the east. The weather was cool and the streets covered with a light coat of snow.

Exercises of the Day.

Troop B of the Fourth regiment, assisted by the Grand Army veteran drill corps, formed the governor's personal escort. These two organizations reported to Grand Marshal Axline at the Board of Trade building at 10:15 and at 10:30 a. m. started with the inaugural committee of the legislature, in carriages, out Broad street to Governor Nash's residence on Jefferson avenue, to escort him to the state-house for the inaugural ceremonies in the Capitol rotunda. The gubernatorial party being in readiness, was at once escorted to the Capitol building. The interior of the rotunda of the Capitol had been decorated with festoons of smilax sent to Columbus from the south and the national colors were tastefully arranged over the arches. The corridors were beautified by a magnificent display of palms and potted plants which filled the corners and vacant spaces of the old and new buildings.

Program in the Rotunda.

At 11:45 the joint committee of the house and senate escorted Governor Nash into the rotunda of the Capitol. The place was crowded almost to suffocation. The Fourth Regiment band rendered the musical selections. J. Y. Bassell of the Columbus board of trade executive committee called the assembly to order and Rev. J. F. Slagle of Waverly offered prayer, after which the Columbus Republican Glee club sang Keller's American hymn. Hon. H. C. Laylin, secretary of state, presented the commission to Governor Nash, after which the oath of office was administered by one of the judges of the supreme court. Governor Nash then delivered his inaugural address, which is a model of brevity.

What Nash Said.
The governor said:
Members of the General Assembly and Fellow-Citizens:

By the will of the people of Ohio I have, in your presence, for the second time, taken the oath which the law prescribes shall be administered to the governor of Ohio. By their ballots this free people have said that I have not been unfaithful to the first oath. I sincerely pray that my gratitude for their approval, strengthened by the help of God will keep me true to the second.

I am admonished by the light of years that in work for the state I must soon give place to younger men. For the future I have but one ambition—the most sacred of my life. It is to show my appreciation of the people who have so highly honored me, by being their faithful servant during the next two years. Upon this foundation must rest whatever of fame lives after me.

In this closing of my life work I beg the advice, the co-operation and the assistance of the members of the Seventy-fifth general assembly of Ohio. We have taken the same oath. The people have favored us alike. To them alone we all owe our fealty. To promote their happiness and welfare should be to us a most pleasant task. In making this appeal I am sure that I do not ask in vain. I think I voice your sentiments when I say "You will be my faithful co-workers."

It is well to recall that during the term of our office Ohio will enter upon the second century of her life. In the first century she will have grown from a few thousand inhabitants, scattered in hamlets throughout a vast wilderness, to a rapidly rising state, with more than four million people. They are now domiciled in great cities, in beautiful towns and in regions of country unpossessed in agricultural and mineral wealth. All are happy in the pathos which the twentieth century has brought to the civilized world.

The watchwords of our fathers were, "freedom, education and morality." Upon these foundations they built our fair state. What they so splendidly wrought it is our duty, and that of those who come after us, to defend, to enlarge and to make better. In this work may we ever remember the precepts of the fathers, and be equally true to our trust.

In conclusion, I tender to the people of Ohio my thanks. I pledge anew my loyalty to our state, and my love for the great republic of which she is a part.

The ceremony closed with a rendition of the "Star Spangled Banner" by the Columbus Glee club.

The governor's personal staff, composed of 12 aides, assisted in the exercises.

TWO

Engines Struck on a Curve.

One Engineer

Killed and Three Other Trainmen,

Together With Mme. Lillian Nordica, the Singer, were Injured.

Both Engines were Wrecked and Twelve Cars were Burned—Caused by Passenger Engineer's Mistake.

Rome, Ga., Jan. 13.—As a result of a collision between a passenger and a freight on the Southern railway, near Reeves station, twenty miles north of Rome, Mme. Lillian Nordica, the singer, was injured, her accompanist, F. Romayne Simmons, sustaining a bruised hand. Engineer Frank Tracy was killed and three other employees of the road were injured.

The train to which Madame Nordica's private car, the Brunhilde, was attached, was a mixed passenger and freight, and left Atlanta for Chattanooga. It arrived at Reeves Station, where it had orders to meet freight No. 55. A freight train, which proved to be an extra, was on the siding at Reeves when the passenger arrived, and the engineer of the passenger evidently assuming that it was No. 55 did not stop, but continued his run toward Chattanooga. A mile north of Reeves, while going at a rapid rate, the passenger met the freight on a sharp curve. The two engines crashed into each other, and Engineer Tracy in attempting to jump was caught between the two locomotives and crushed to death. Madame Nordica's car was attached to the rear of the passenger train. When the collision occurred Madame Nordica was asleep in her bed in the private stateroom of the car. The sudden jolt threw the diva from her bed to the floor. It is understood that she sustained a badly bruised shoulder, and the muscles of her neck are said to have been strained.

Both engines were badly wrecked, and twelve cars, it is said, were burned. The engineer and fireman of the freight escaped by jumping, but were both badly bruised.

The Weather.

Washington, Jan. 13.—Ohio, fair, continued cold tonight and Tuesday.

The arrest at North Yankina, Washington, Jan. 6, of Stewart Fife, son of the murdered man's business partner, under indictment for the Richardson murder, gives promise that the mystery surrounding the tragedy may be unraveled. The prosecution will try to prove that Fife was surprised in Mrs. Richardson's company by the wronged husband and that Fife shot him down to avoid exposure. If Fife is acquitted as the principal Mrs. Richardson cannot be convicted as an accessory.

More Account of the Battle

Off Santiago

Is Published by a Newspaper Writer

Who Was On Board the Brooklyn When Naval Battle Occurred.

His Account is Unbiased and Relates How Admiral Schley was Snubbed by Sampson After the Fight.

Chicago, Jan. 13.—A book entitled "Schley at Santiago" is on the press in this city. The author is George E. Graham, a war correspondent, who had exceptional facilities for gathering materials, as he was on board the Brooklyn during the fight with the Spanish fleet. The book is said to have the unqualified endorsement of Rear Admiral Schley, who read and corrected the proof sheets. When President Roosevelt was governor of New York he endorsed Mr. Graham's account of the battle, which was delivered in an address to the state officials and the legislature. The author in his book says that after the great naval battle, when the cruiser New York came up, Commodore Schley attempted repeatedly to communicate with those on board the New York, but all his signals were ignored. After the engagement the crews of the Oregon, Texas, Vixen and other vessels cheered like mad for Commodore Schley, but the author says, from the cruiser New York, standing hard by, "there came not a sound of joyfulness and never a cheer."

Of a Mysterious Explosion in a Frame Flat in Buffalo, N. Y.,

Were Members of One Family.

Seven Persons were Burned to Death and the Owner of the Building is Under Arrest Pending an Investigation.

Buffalo, Jan. 13.—Henry Pearlstone, his wife and five children, ranging in age from one and a half to 12 years, were burned to death in a fire that destroyed a two-story frame building, Joseph Supowski, who owned the building, and Karl Bracki, his brother-in-law, have been arrested pending an investigation. Supowski carried an insurance of $9,000 on the building and its contents. The Pearlstones and another family lived in rooms above a shoe store and were asleep when the fire started. Supowski told the police that he accidentally dropped a lamp. A few minutes after the fire began there was a loud explosion that blew out the front of the store and hurled some of the contents of the windows into the middle of the street. Plate glass windows on the opposite side of Broadway were shattered, and the report of the explosion was heard two blocks away. The flames enveloped the building in a short time. The family living in the rear flat barely escaped with their lives. The Pearlstones were awakened, but before they could reach the only stairway leading from their rooms the fire had undermined the floor in the hallway, and it collapsed, carrying them down into a mass of flames. Their charred bodies were found four hours after the firemen had extinguished the flames. The body of the mother and babe were found together, the little one tightly clasped in its mother's arms. Pearlstone's was found close to that of his wife. He had held one of the children in his arms. The bodies of the other three children were found huddled together close to the father's body.

Washington, Jan. 13.—Mrs. Ada Gilbert Dennis, the fashionable medicine who was murderously assaulted on the night of Dec. 8, was able for the first time today to make a statement. The police have been hopeful that what she would say would throw some light on the motive for the crime or lead to the discovery of the perpetrator, but Mrs. Dennis' statement contained nothing that would give any clue in either direction. She said she remembers nothing immediately preceding the attack upon her, and said the blow was struck while she was asleep. NEWS

Of the City Across the River.

The Churches

Still Continuing Their Revivals.

Rev. Father Rupert Addressed a Large Audience Last Night.

Newton Edwards, Formerly of This City, Dies at His Late Home in Yorkshire—Funeral to Occur There.

Esley Edwards, residing on east Kibby street, left this morning for Yorkshire, where he was summoned by the death of his brother, Newton, which occurred yesterday morning. Deceased was well and favorably known here having been formerly employed at H. I. Border's on south Main street. During his residence in south Lima he made many friends who are sorry to learn of his demise. The funeral and interment will take place at Yorkshire.

The revivals in progress at the several churches are attracting large attendances and eliciting deep interest. Last night after a week's recess, caused by Rev. Sims' illness, evangelistic services were resumed at the Christian church. A large audience was present to hear Mr. Sims expound the gospel. His discourse was interesting, instructive and edifying. Chart sermons and chalk talks will be features of the meetings this week. Tonight Rev. Sims' theme will be "From the Beginning."

The first week of the Grace church revival was concluded last night with propitious results. An immense audience heard Rev. Hagerman's eloquent address entitled: "Answering Objections." He exhaustively discussed in an earnest and convincing manner the excuses advanced by persons generally for not identifying themselves with the church. By a masterful argument he broke down all objections and emphasized the danger of procrastination. Next Sunday morning an old time Methodist experience meeting will be substituted for the regular preaching services. These exercises promise to be of an unusual nature opening up a field for religious exploitation seldom available. In the afternoon, a men's meeting will be held, special music and a lecture by Rev. Hagerman, being features for the devotion and instruction of those attending. One week later, a similar meeting for women will be held. Evangelistic meetings will be held at Grace church each night this week, with day meetings Wednesday and Thursday. During last night's services Mr. Hagerman gave his audience the benefit of some very interesting experiences while engaged in the practice of law and the pursuit of politics.

The regular Sunday evening services at St. John's church continually increase in interest and attendance. Last night a vast concourse assembled to hear Father Rupert, sermonize upon the subject of "Prayer." Naturally eloquent, and apparently inspired by his lofty subject he surpassed all former oratorical efforts since entering the pulpit here. Deep thought, profound argument and eloquent delivery made the discourse one of the most extraordinary ever heard in this locality. January 22 A. O. H., No. 2, of Saint John's parish will give a supper and entertainment in the society hall of the parish building. On the evening of March 4, Rev. Father Bradley, of Galion, but formerly located in this city will deliver a lecture in the church auditorium, under the auspices of the A. O. H. No. 2, apropos to the feast of St. Patrick. Today a specially appointed commission consisting of Dr. Maher, of Akron, Father Pfeil, of Cleveland and a disinterested local person, meet to consider the matter of Rev. C. W. Smith, of the Presbyterian church, went to Ada today, where he will assist Rev. Elder, in evangelistic services. Mr. Smith is in demand throughout this section of the state, being an evangelist of merit.

ARE WE A WARLIKE PEOPLE?

Our Policy in the Philippines and One Military Power.

In an article in January Forum John F. Shafroth, member of congress from Colorado, says:

The great wealth and development of our country have arisen from the fact that we have had peace and that we have not been compelled to impose a constant tax on our industries and people to maintain large armies and navies. With our sovereignty removed from the Philippines and with our sources of income practically unlimited, we should still be able to pursue our policy of peace and good will without fear of foreign aggression.

In view of the situation in China the Philippine Islands are supposed by some to be of great strategic value. It is very improbable that we shall ever have any difficulty with the Chinese, because our interest is identical with theirs—namely, the preservation of the integrity of the Chinese empire. But even if we were otherwise, why keep soldiers 600 to 1,500 miles from the possible scene of action, with a very limited transport service, and it is suggested, by the way, that this should be sold, when we could place them on our own concession at Shanghai, as the French, Germans and English have done?

The decision as to whether we are to hold the Philippine Islands involves therefore the question whether we are willing to relinquish concentration for diffusion, to exchange land power, our natural strength, as to which we have enormous advantages, for sea power, as to which we have no peculiar advantage, and to give to the enemy in each conflict the choice of weapons as well as of time and place of battle. With our military power upon land, we need neither a large army nor a large navy and require only a light taxation upon the industries and people of the nation, which means prosperity. Exchanging this for sea power, we shall need a navy equal or superior to that of any warlike nation and also a large army to sustain the results of our naval engagements, involving taxation which will so cripple many of our industries that they will be unable to compete for trade in the markets of the world, which means adversity.

Why pursue a course which will weaken the military strength of our nation, which will make a greater drain upon the treasury than will be counterbalanced by the profits it will give to commerce and which will compel us to abandon the policy under which we have grown so great? Why give up the advantages of a powerful people for the disadvantages of a warlike people? "They that take the sword shall perish with the sword." That judgment threatens not men alone, but also every nation that indulges the dream of universal empire. Why not avoid the stupendous blunder of the acquisition of these islands by helping their people to establish a government of their own based upon republican principles and thereby conduce to the beacon light of liberty and civilization to all the world?

If a man saved the ash of an old cigar he smoked, he would have consumed 1,000 before he had a second ash.

Happiness is sometimes like a pair of spectacles. While one looks for it it sits astride one's very nose.

THE SOUTH IN CONGRESS

Moody's Resolution to Reduce Representation.

AWAKES SECTIONAL HATE SPIRIT

Institutions and People of Southern Section of the Country Objects of Vindictive Attack—Significance of the Proposition—Views of a Southern Newspaper.

Reports from Washington indicate that the irrepressible fanaticism of the Republican party is determined to reassert itself at this session of the Fifty-seventh congress and that, as usual, this unreasoning spirit of sectional hate has selected both the institutions and the people of the south as the objects of its vindictive assault, says the New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Mr. Moody, a member of the house of representatives from the state of Massachusetts, introduced recently in the lower branch of the national legislature this resolution:

Resolved, That the speaker shall appoint a select committee of eleven members, who shall inquire into and have leave to report, by bill or otherwise, at any time, whether at the election in the state of Louisiana wherein the members of the house of representatives from said state were chosen, the right of any male inhabitants of said state being twenty-one years old and citizens of the United States to vote at said election was, by the constitution and laws of said state, denied or in any way abridged contrary to the constitution of the United States or the articles in addition thereto and amendment thereof, and also whether, if the right of any person to vote was denied or abridged as aforesaid, the members from said state chosen at such election are entitled to membership in this house, and whether it is expedient that congress should enact appropriate legislation to enforce the provisions of the fourteenth and fifteenth articles in addition to an amendment of the constitution of the United States.

Whatever may be the ostensible purpose of this resolution of Mr. Moody's, it is quite clear that its real object is at once the overthrow of election laws recently imbedded in the constitutions of at least four southern commonwealths and a reduction in the representation of these four states in the lower branch of the national legislature.

In reflecting upon the propriety and wisdom of Mr. Moody's resolution two questions of large importance are presented alike to the congress and to Americans of the southern states:

First.—Whether or not the house of representatives has the right or the authority to pass judgment upon the validity of a constitution adopted by the people of a sovereign state.

Second.—If it be conceded that the house of representatives has both this right and this authority, whether or not the southern people, in case the house of representatives, with its emphatic Republican majority, succeeds, with the consent of the senate and the president, in reducing the representation of the south in the lower branch of the national legislature, should abandon their determination to eliminate the vicious, ignorant and criminal negro vote from politics in the southern commonwealths?

We believe that we reflect the solid sense of Americans in the southern states when we say that the southern people, recognizing the deep significance of this proposition, will not hesitate to answer both these questions promptly and emphatically in the negative.

Granting, however, for the sake of argument, that an insensate Republican majority in the house of representatives has the power and the authority suggested by the Moody resolution and that in exercising this authority and this power a fanatical Republican majority should threaten to reduce the south's representation in congress unless the intelligence and conscience of this section should consent to restore the ignorant, vicious and criminal negro vote to the infamously complete and the completely infamous influence it once exercised in southern politics—granting all this, what then becomes the duty of Americans of the southern states? How may the men and the women of the south, the descendants of a people immemorably pure and immemorably proud, most wisely cherish the traditions and the principles that have made and kept the south what it is, that have given impulse and tone and temper and character to this southern, this most distinctly American, civilization of ours?

There is not, we believe, a man "of light and leading" in the southern commonwealths who will hesitate even for an instant in answering that question.

The resolution introduced by Mr. Moody of Massachusetts will awaken little fear in the hearts of the southern people. It will serve merely to remind them that in their efforts to solve wisely problems of grave importance to the whole country they must needs cease to expect either sympathy or support from certain circles at the north.

Perhaps He Meant It.

When Speaker Henderson, after being re-nominated by his Republican associates, made a warning speech as to the dangers of a treasury surplus and the need of economy, his hearers treated his address with apparent unanimity as a "Republican utterance." They may be very sorry later on that such a point of view was taken by their party caucus.—Boston Globe.

People May Take a Hand. Speaking of the attitude of the Republican party toward reciprocity and tariff revision the New York Herald remarks: One thing is certain—if the high protectionists in their selfishness are able to prevent a modification of the tariff on the lines suggested by President McKinley in his latest speech, there must later on be a general revision that will be less to their taste.

ROOSEVELT AND HANNA.

Respectively Represent the Best and Worst Elements of Their Party.

In the event of a determined effort by President Roosevelt to break down the Hanna machine now controlling the national Republican organization the ensuing conflict and final developments will repay interested study as bearing upon the future of the Republican party, says the St. Louis Republic.

The two men differ so radically in their ideals that the story of the antagonism already aroused between them is easy to believe. President Roosevelt is in close touch with the people, believing in them, solicitous for their rights, temperamentally jealous of any encroachment upon popular government, firmly grounded in the American faith which makes the people supreme. Senator Hanna is remote from the people; he does not hesitate to impel or sacrifice their rights for the advantage of a privileged caste, as whose representative he was placed in public life; he holds that the strong hand of a limited governing class should be supreme over the people.

A fight between Roosevelt and Hanna would represent the clashing of the best and the worst elements in the Republican party. For this reason the result of such a conflict would be of great significance. The overthrow of Hanna would be the best thing that could happen to his party, promising a rescue from the evil dominance of late years. Should the Hanna machine prove equal to the task of successfully resisting an administration attack and preventing Roosevelt's nomination for the presidency in 1904 the Republican party will be surrendered thereby to the sway of the most un-American spirit yet developed in American politics. Either Hanna himself or a man of Hanna's name would be selected as the Republican standard bearer three years hence. The syndicates represented by Hanna would be more firmly than ever fixed in control of American politics.

The president will find Hanna a hard man to overcome. There is an influence of tremendous power behind the Ohio senator. He stands for the trusts, and the trusts will uphold him to the bitter end. They are fighting for themselves when they fight for Hanna. They will gladly defeat and crush Roosevelt for Hanna's sake. Owing to these truths the fight now said to be on is peculiarly interesting. The president, upholding the old traditions of his party, is arrayed against the most malign figure ever developed within that party.

TRUSTS IN GERMANY.

Called by Another Name, but Manage to Squeeze the Consumer.

Some of the apologists for trusts have tried to make themselves believe that in the German "kartell" they have found sufficient evidence that the trust thrives in Germany and with the sanction of the government, too, says the Boston Globe.

But interested Germans contend that it is not a trust, but merely an organization for the purpose of controlling home production and regulating prices. That description would seem to denote a trust pretty well, but because the members of the kartell do not lose their financial independence and are not obliged to belong to it and because it has no secret meetings and operates solely at home the government winks at it.

One of the privy councilors remarks that because the kartell maintains prices at home and only affects prices there foreigners have no cause for complaint if they have cheap sugar at the expense of the German kartell.

The kartell has all the earmarks of a trust. It is one, too, except that it is voluntary and does business openly. It makes foreign consumers surrender at the expense of German consumers, an interesting way of fighting foreign competition. It is a home trust designed to fight foreign trusts with.

The trust, like all other evils, breeds its own other countries, and the poor home consumer has to pay for its annihilation. He is the victim always.

WISE ECONOMY NEEDED.

The Democrats in Congress Have Their Work Cut Out.

It may be that in advertising as he did to the danger which lurks in a great surplus in the national treasury Speaker Henderson disturbed certain susceptibilities on the part of some of his fellow Republicans of the house who nominated him Saturday afternoon to the office he holds. Nevertheless, those were in truth words of wisdom wherein he declared at the caucus: "We have a great danger to confront as continuously—that is the surplus in the treasury. I appeal to my Republican colleagues to keep in mind that this is a danger, and if we can be wise in the presence of that danger we will find approval from the American people."

There are ominous indications that it will require something more than good advice from the speaker of the house to restrain the majority party in congress from plunging headlong into reckless expenditure at every opportunity. We trust and believe that the representatives of the minority party at the capital will realize the importance of taking a firm stand against wild and reckless outlays and in favor of the good old principles of economy which never can be long "out of favor" among our national lawmakers, despite multitudinous and insidious temptations.—Boston Globe.

Concealed Himself in a Box.

San Francisco, Jan. 12.—Frank Holt, a military prisoner on Alcatraz island, serving a 15-year sentence for desertion, has escaped. He concealed himself in a large wooden box, which was consigned to a clothing firm in this city, and which was put aboard the steamer Melowell. The top of the box was so arranged with leather straps that it could be opened from the inside. It is thought that after the box was put aboard Holt crawled into it and did not emerge until the vessel reached the dock on this side of the bay. As Holt was dressed in a blue uniform he walked away as any other soldier, without detection.

Workmen's Tribute.

Pittsburg, Jan. 12.—Ten thousand dollars was contributed to the national fund for a McKinley memorial by the workmen of Homestead. It was one of the largest amounts for this purpose that has been raised in western Pennsylvania, and the amount, together with the names of those who donated to the cause, will be forwarded to the headquarters of the McKinley memorial commission at Washington early this week. The majority of the workmen gave a half-day's pay, from the lowest laborer to the heads of departments. There were a few, however, who gave nothing.

Chamberlain Defiant.

London, Jan. 13.—The speech of Colonial Secretary Chamberlain at Birmingham is being commented upon from the party standpoint. Mr. Chamberlain was in high spirits and spoke more deliberately than usual, puffing a cigar at intervals. His references to Count Von Buelow, the imperial chancellor of Germany, were calmly and even contemptuously given. Mr. Chamberlain's reply meets with approval from men of his own party, but in many quarters friendly to his policy regret is expressed that he should thrust his own personality so much to the front.

Carnegie to Columbus.

Columbus, O., Jan. 13.—Andrew Carnegie offers the city of Columbus $150,000 to be applied to the erection of a public library building. He pledges this sum on condition that the city furnish a site and $20,000 a year toward maintaining its library system.

Fatal Flames.

Brinkley, Ark., Jan. 13.—Fire has destroyed several buildings here, including the Arlington hotel, entailing a loss estimated at from $50,000 to $75,000. Charles Starkey of Stuttgart, Ark., perished in the hotel.

Mysterious Fire.

St. Louis, Jan. 13.—A fire of mysterious origin caused damage estimated at $130,000 in the building occupied by the E. C. W. Meier China and Glass company. There was $60,000 insurance on the stock.

Steel Plant Sold.

Joliet, Ill., Jan. 13.—It is unofficially reported here that the United States steel corporation has purchased the Fox Press steel company's works and that the plant will resume this week under the new management, employing several hundred men. Officials here cannot confirm the rumor. The Fox plant has been idle since last summer owing to labor troubles.

Trial of Jim Howard.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 13.—The second trial of James Howard on the charge of killing Goebel two years ago is proceeding rapidly, but so far no new testimony has been produced. The commonwealth will conclude early this week, and the defense claims that it will present evidence that was not available at the former trial.

Struck by a Wave.

New York, Jan. 13.—The steamship Euraria, of the Cunard line, came to her dock showing many signs of the rough voyage she had coming across. Most of the forward sail on her promenade deck was gone, having been washed away by an immense wave which struck the ship at 3 o'clock Thursday morning.

Positive proof from Lima Can't be Brushed Lightly Aside.

The reader is forced to acknowledge that convincing proof in his own city is preeminently ahead of endorsement from everywhere else in our Republic. Read this:

Mr. Joe Wise, of 735 west North street, machinist at the C. H. & D. E. R. shops, says: "There was a heavy dull aching through my loins and I felt sore and lame all over. My general health was run down and I lost weight until I got down to 135 pounds. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and so highly recommended that I procured a box at McVillie's drug store and began the treatment. I rapidly grew better, the aches and pains left me, the action of the kidneys became normal and healthy and I was soon enjoying nights of good sound refreshing sleep. I felt like a new man and went about my work feeling as strong and well as ever in my life. I regained my normal weight of 170 pounds in a short time. Chance for Bloodless Surgery.

Dr. J. J. Takamine, a Japanese, claims to have discovered, according to Pearson's Weekly, the possibility of bloodless surgery through the medium of a chemical composition called adrenalin. By the local application of adrenalin in surgical operations may be performed, it is said, on the nose, ear and eye without the spilling of a drop of blood. This has been demonstrated that the discovery is the most powerful medicine known and at the same time, it may be said, the most expensive. At present it costs 4 shillings a grain, or £1,400 a pound.

SUIT

Ties Up the Bond Issue In New York.

Col. Brown After the Detroit Southern

And Some Very Interesting Testimony May be Brought Out.

Millions of New Bonds, Preferred and Common Stock to be Flashed by Bache & Lisman, the Recent Organizers.

Clarence Brown, the distinguished politician, reached New York Saturday writes the Enquirer correspondent, and the details of an interesting suit came to light. The suit is instituted by Colonel W. C. Brown, of Fostoria, against Jules S. Bache, F. J. Lisman and others. This suit was first brought in Buffalo in June, but has been transferred to this city. Bache, Lisman and others are the organizers of the Detroit Southern Railroad, which was made up of the old Detroit and L. & N. and Ohio Southern Railroads. The managers of the new company are offering $10,500,000 worth of new bonds on these old properties, and propose to give Ohio Southern bondholders $1,500,000 in exchange for the same amount of Southern Ohio bonds. Colonel Brown's attorneys want to know what became of the remainder of the bonds. They then have $500,000 of preferred stock, the most of which the syndicate gets. This follows $10,500,000 common stock $5,000,000 of which the syndicate gets and the Detroit and Lima Northern that mortgage bondholders at the rate of $1,000,000 of common stock in exchange for their first mortgage bonds. Colonel Brown's attorneys contend that the Detroit and Lima Northern is just as desirable a property as the Ohio Southern. The Ohio Southern extends from the coal mines in Southern Ohio to Lima and the Detroit and Lima Northern from Lima to Detroit. The Detroit and Lima Northern is practically a new road, with new grades, while the Ohio Southern is an old property, or parts of which the grades are very steep and the cost of operation much higher than on the D. & L. N. Colonel Brown's attorneys expect to bring out some very interesting testimony and show how this new combination of roads was financed. The Colonel holds $154,000 of the bonds of the D. & L. N. The attorneys for Brown are Swayne, Hayes & Tyler and Clarence Brown, of Toledo, who reached New York today. Most, Sprague, Brownell & Noyes, of Buffalo; Abner McKuler and Parker & Aaron, of New York city. The case is to come up very shortly.

Acquired More Property.
According to an associated press dispatch from Ironton, the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton, under the name of the Toledo & Ohio River railroad, purchased Saturday the right of way from Callie Furnace, where the road runs through Lawrence county to Ironton. The intention of the purchasers is to make Ironton one of its terminals.

Talks no doubt, may be accepted as a sequel to the announcement as made in the Cincinnati papers of recent date that the Detroit Southern would purchase the iron railway and build a track connecting the northern terminal, Dean, with Jackson, giving the D. S. a through line from Detroit and the lakes to the Ohio river.

The territory connected by the iron railway is fertile in blast furnaces and the tonnage of coal and pig iron is heavy. To be able to transport take direct to these furnaces—and this one must be added in to get a good quality of pig iron—will be quite a feather in the cap of the railroad which is able to do it, and the tenor of all reports bearing on the situation indicates there is to be a lively fight for the plum.

End of the Pass Agreement.

The Cleveland Leader says: The pass agreement, so far as the lines of the Central Passenger Association are concerned, has been broken. All lines are now arranging to send out their annual pass lists, although not to so great a number as heretofore. The Wabash is said to be directly responsible for the break.

President Ramsey sent a telegram to the other president that the competition of the Ohio river lines had compelled him to take the step.

Vice President McCrea, of the Pennsylvania, is said to have immediately followed and all the lines which have hitherto refrained are issuing passes. All the roads admit that the competition among the so-called Ohio river lines is directly responsible for the break, as the east and west railways could not do themselves justice when intercepted at every point by other railroads which had a material advantage in traffic, by having their passes in the hands of the collecting force.

General Notes.
The private car used by former superintendent F. E. Dewey, of the Detroit Southern, was taken out of the Springfield shops and sold to Chicago parties.

Charles Crawford, for twenty years employed as an engineer on the Ohio Southern, died Saturday at Seattle, Wash., from diabetes. He went there December 21 for the benefit of his health. His home was in Springfield, where he leaves a wife and one child and the body will be brought there for burial.

It is reported that J. S. Harck, formerly a passenger conductor on the Cincinnati Northern, has been appointed trainmaster of the Toledo division of the Cuyler Leaf, with headquarters at Delphos.

"The Telephone Girl" Tonight.

Tonight the great "beauty show" from the New York Casino, "The Telephone Girl," will be presented at Paquet's opera house by a company of forty people which includes Mabel Hill, Frank Blair, Douglas and Ford, Pearl Reading, Tom Smith, Martin, Gen. Austin Moore, John Marr, Geo. Lyman, Alice Sanson, Minnie Charlotte Stolle and Laurel Atkins. There is also the "exclusively feminine chorus" of twenty charming girls. A car of scenery and effects is carried by the company—in fact nothing has been left undone to make this season's production of the one of the best in the history of this remarkable musical comedy.

BY TONIGHT

Or Tomorrow the Gas Pressure Will be Increased.

Owing to a delay of two or three days in the shipment of the parts needed to repair the damage done by the accident that occurred a few days ago at the Gas Company's pump station, the company has been unable for several days to operate the station to its full capacity.

A telephone message from there at noon today stated that the new parts had been received from the factory and that by this evening or tomorrow at latest, the repairs would all be completed and the station placed in running order again.

FORMER

Lima Man is to be Hanged Friday.

John Pinkard to Die for the Murder of His Wife.

Condemned Man Now Awaiting the End in the Michigan City, Indiana, Prison—Was Well Known in This City.

John Pinkard, a former resident of this city, is to be hanged at the Michigan City, Ind., penitentiary next Friday for the murder of his wife. The last effort to save the murderer's life has been made in an appeal to the governor of Indiana, but that official has refused to interfere and the murderer is to suffer the penalty of his brutal crime. Pinkard and his family lived on the south side in this city for a number of years and quite a number of years ago removed to Marion, Ind., where the murder was committed. Pinkard will be remembered by many of the older residents of the south side.

PERJURY

Sent David Crumrine to the Penitentiary

And Now He Loses His Wife Through the Medium of the Divorce Court.

The violation of an oath sent David Crumrine to the penitentiary for four years last him the respect of the community and resulted in the admission today of another bitter pill when Judge Cunningham granted a divorce to his wife, Amelia M. Crumrine.

The defendant in the case attempted to save John Cree from the penitentiary at the time he was indicted for stealing junk, but the prosecuting attorney was convinced that Crumrine had perjured himself and authorized his arrest on that ground. Crumrine confessed before his case came to trial and when he pleaded guilty, the court made a lesson of him. He was sentenced May 21, 1900, and as the laws of Ohio grant a wife a divorce from a convict husband, Mrs. Crumrine had but little trouble in getting the decree she prayed for.

GOODHaul was Made by the Robbers But the Police*Were Too Soon Upon the Trail*And as a Result One Man Has Already Been Arrested on Suspicion

And a Portion of the Goods, Stolen from J. B. Douglass' Grocery, Has Been recovered and Identified.

Between the hours of 3 and 4 o'clock this morning burglars forced an entrance into J. Boyd Douglass' grocery and meat market at 409 west High street and succeeded in getting away with two pieces of breakfast bacon, about one-half of a ham, one quarter of a beef, a sack of flour and some cigars of several different brands. The robbers did their work very successfully and were not disturbed but this morning, after the police had been notified, it was learned that three colored men had been seen walking along Butler avenue about 1 o'clock, carrying a heavy clothes basket.

Search warrants were issued from Mayor's court and three houses on the avenue were searched by officers Neuhrecht and Bacon. In rooms that were occupied by William Irwin and wife and child, colored, the officers found a sack of flour of the brand that had been stolen and took both Irwin and the sack of flour to the police station. They then returned to the house and succeeded in finding two pieces of bacon and part of a ham, which were identified by Mr. Henry Jenkins, of the Douglass grocery, as some of the goods that had been stolen.

PRISONERSIn the Ohio Penitentiary Engage in a Fight.

And John Cree, from This City, is Beaten Into Unconsciousness by a Cleveland Man.

A dispatch from Columbus says: "Wesley Anderson, a Cleveland prisoner at the pen, and John Cree, from Allen county, engaged in a fight last night. Anderson pounded Cree with a rake handle until he was unconscious. Cree was taken to the hospital and Anderson to a solitary cell. Cree had reported Anderson for negligence."

HAS'N'TWithdrawn from the Race for Justice.

F. E. Duffield Will Return from Texas and Enter the Race for a Second Term.

In a half column of political pot-pourri the Gazette made a frantic effort in a recent issue to throw some light on what might be expected when spring opened her grip and released the candidates, but as usual the predictions of the Gazette were full of blunders and a wrong impression was given to the public in more than one instance.

Without any authority whatever the statement was made that Justice Frank Duffield, who recently took a trip to Texas for his health, would positively not be a candidate for reelection. Mr. Duffield did not authorize the Gazette to withdraw his name, but in the contrary has written his friends in Lima that he is improving rapidly and will return home about the middle of next month to again enter the fight for his present position. The genial justice has a host of friends who will be glad of another chance to support him.

VISITORSAt St. Johns Church were Greatly Pleased.

Quite a number of traveling men who spent Sunday in this city, attended the 10 o'clock services at St. John's church yesterday and after the services were profuse in their praise for the eloquent sermon they had heard delivered by the pastor, Rev. Father Rupert. Quite a number of additional seats have been placed in the church but the seating capacity is still too limited to accommodate all who attend the services.

Mrs. J. H. Bree, of Spencerville, has returned home, after a few days visit with Mrs. H. S. Martin, of north Collet street.

The Chautauque circle will meet with Miss Bower this evening.

Mr. William Lichtenstader, of the firm of Lichtenstader Bros., has left for Cleveland, Detroit and surrounding points for a two or three weeks trip.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stamp, of east Findlay street, a son.

Mr. and Mrs. George Godfrey and son, Carl, will spend Sunday with her mother at Anna.

Mrs. James Gamble, of east Elm street, returned Saturday from Swanton, Ohio, where she had been at the bed side of her mother, who is very seriously ill.

The little folks love Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. Pleasant to take; perfectly harmless; positive cure for coughs, colds, bronchitis, asthma.

BIGSum of Damages Asked for.*Section Hand*Holds the C. & E. Responsible*For Permanent Injuries Received While Loading a Box Car.

Fred Courson Sues an Oil Company for Commission Due Him for Engineering a Recent Deal.

A damage suit, based on injuries received in an unusual manner, was begun Saturday evening, the petition bearing the caption, Clinton Stubbs vs. the C. & E. railway company. Stubbs explains that he was employed as a section hand, and in response to orders from the superintendent of the wrecking crew went to a point one and one-half miles east of Harrod, where a wreck had occurred, to assist in loading a quantity of merchandise in cars.

He says that he was placed in a car with a co-laborer and the goods passed outside. The work was new to him and because he did not handle the boxes with more celerity, the boss of the job cursed and abused him. He worked as hard as he could and in lifting the heavy boxes permanently injured himself and caused a severe rupture. Twice he was taken to the Lima hospital, remaining five weeks the first time and fifteen days the second, undergoing painful operations for hernia, and spending the sum of $150.

He complains that he was employed as a section hand and that the work required of him at the wreck was not expected of him when he took employment from the road. His injuries are of a permanent nature, preventing him from performing manual labor, and he asks judgment against the defendant company for $20,000.

Wants Estate Divided. Application for the partition of 80 acres of land in Bath township, has been made by John H. Leedy, one of the heirs of the late Rebecca Miller, in a petition filed Saturday, naming David W. Leedy, John Miller and Mary, Hiram and Heartletta Miller, minors, as defendants. Anna S. Graham, who has a mortgage interest in the premises is named as a party defendant. The plaintiff says that there was sufficient personal property to pay all debts and asks for the sale of the premises and division of the proceeds.

Wants His Commission. There have been several recent big oil deals carried through in Lima within the past few weeks, and the parties through whom negotiations were made have in several instances been compelled to resort to the courts in order to compel payment of the demanded commissions. The second case of this nature was filed Saturday by Fred E. Courson, who represents that he engineered the sale of a lease in Hancock county and is entitled to a commission of $300 which has not been paid.

He names Jas. A. McCormick, A. Mack and Thos. Patton as defendants, and says that he secured for them a purchase of their lease of 80 acres in Hancock county, for the sum of $6000, which they accepted. The property was transferred to Davis and Whipple for the sum of mentioned and according to the contract, the plaintiff was to receive a commission of 5 per cent, amounting to $300.

Will Close the Term. The case of Susan Reed vs. the L. E. & W. was called this morning and it will probably end the present term of court. The plaintiff, as has been published in detail, sues for $1995 damages for injuries sustained at the Metcalf street crossing.

Judge Price represents the plaintiff and a special jury was called in order to dispose of the case before the Judge leaves Lima to take his seat on the supreme bench. The jurors retained were J. O. Stix, R. E. Arthur, Amos Harpster, Daniel Orider, Aaron Ausberger, W. H. Standish, Loren Locke, Ben. F. Pugh, Christ Lugabill, J. E. Lugabill, Martin Blosser and Laurent Ferkle.

New Suits. John H. Leedy vs. David W. Leedy, et al., partition. Henderson & Rogers. Clinton Stubbs vs. C. & E. railway company, damage. E. B. Milnor, Henderson & Sprague.

Fred E. Courson vs. James A. McCormick, A. Mack and Thomas Patton, money. Cable & Permenter.

Real Estate Transfers. Harry J. Teagardin, et al. to Henry H. Wilkins, 40 acres in Monroe township, $1,200.

Manson and Mariah Bigelow to George W. Wien, land in Spencer township, $225.

John P. Hooper and wife to Harry J. Teagardin et al., 49 acres in Monroe township, $1.

Theo. H. Conderman and wife to Fred Brodbeck, lot 5515 in Conderman's addition, $550.

Benjamin F. Thomas, V. Cardosi, and Henry Thoring filed deeds in the Machine Shops addition.

POPULARCaptain of the North Side Fire Department,

Chris. Englehart, Resigned to Accept a Position in the Service of the B. P. L. Company.

Chris. Englehart, captain and driver of the north side fire department, has prepared his resignation to be submitted to the city council at next Monday's meeting and he will immediately enter upon the duties of a new and better position in the service of the Buckeye Pipe Line Company.
